ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS A YEAR IN ADVANCE

McKINLEY YORK DRAWS LIFE SENTENCE

MANCHESTER, KY., Oct. 14.—McKinley York was convicted here for the murder of Huey Hammons and Sam Hammons and sentenced for life to the state penitentiary. The difficulty took place on Little Goose Creek last Christmas Day and resulted in killing the two men named and Bradley York, a relative of the convicted man. The Yorks and Hammons were members of the same feudal clan and the difficulty is said to have been the result of intoxication. Huey Hammons, one of the slain men, was 73 years of age.

With the rendering of the verdict of the case the Circuit Court adjourned after being in session for four weeks.

Besides the conviction of York, seven other men were sentenced to the state prison this term. John Farmer, Garrett and Monroe Collins were given one year for housebreaking; Robert and Charles Jackson were given two years each for shooting at with intent to kill, and Oliver F. Hensley was given one year for the same offense. —Louisville Herald.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Mary Ellen Faulkner gave a delightful birthday party to thirty-two of her young friends on the occasion of her sixth birthday which fell on last Thursday, Oct. 12th. Among the other guests were her grandfather, J. R. Jones, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Lillian Lawson, Joe Howard Jones, Bertha Howard, Mrs. Drew Faulkner and son Bernard.

The birthday cake was an old-fashioned pound cake with six candles to mark the number of the little lady's years. The guests also feasted on icecream, homemade cake and candy. They had a dandy time and besides leaving many good wishes with little Mary Ellen, they presented her with dainty and useful birthday souvenirs.

PROMINENT LECTURER NEXT THURSDAY

Dr. Robert B. S. Hammond, of Sydney, Australia, will speak at a union meeting of the Baptist, Methodist and Christian congregations next Thursday evening at 7:30, in the Methodist church. Dr. Hammond is one of the most distinguished citizens of Australia. He is considered one of her most foremost platform orators. He is to speak on "The World Crusade Against Alcohol."

As pastor of the largest church in Australia, he has shown a wonderful evangelistic spirit—so great that he is known as "The Amender of Men." In the past ten years he has rescued to purity and sobriety an unbelievable number of men. Our city is singularly honored in having this distinguished man from the other side of the globe visit us. A capacity audience must greet this great prohibition worker.

KIWANIS AGAIN KICKS OFF

Friday night marked a new kick off of the ball of progress when Kiwanis, about thirty strong and among them the most progressive citizens of Barbourville, met to get Kiwanis going strong. The summer time held too many attractions and the club was allowed to languish and become practically useless, except that the meetings DID PROMOTE friendliness and a better understanding of each other. It is now intended to go ahead and make Kiwanis what it should be—a force for progress in Barbourville.

President T. D. Tinsley stated that next Friday night will be ladies night and the meeting will be held at Union College. Ex-Governor Hal Mould, of Pineville, and others will be present and will present the Charter to the club on this occasion.

President Tinsley asked for suggestions as to what is most needed in Barbourville, saying that we must decide on something definite to do and then get down to business and do it, which remark was the height of good sense.

After Robert W. Cole had given a humorous account of his trip to New York where he associated with the monied ones of the earth, suggestions were made.

H. H. Owens suggested a City Hall. We have no place for police court, he said, nor for the meetings of the City Council, in fact no public hall for any purpose. If we want to invite the Kiwanis Clubs from over this section or to get a convention here, we cannot do it without having to use a private building.

T. W. Minton suggested a tourist camp for Barbourville. He pointed out that it will be but a short time before tourists begin to arrive. With a camping ground in existence, it will mean that these tourists will stay around town for a few days and thus leave more money in town than if merely passing thru.

Fred Burman suggested that Kiwanis take definite steps to interest farmers in fruit growing on a commercial scale, repeating what was said by Mr. Niles, the secretary of the State Horticultural Society, as to the superiority of fruit of this section.

Judge S. B. Dishman spoke of the wonderful business development since the paved streets were put in and advocated good roads as the next best bet.

The Advocate office has been busy this week distributing a large number of puzzles sent us by the Calumet Baking Powder Co., of Chicago, whose product is so popular with housewives. The puzzle is an ingenious one and has proved very popular with the children.

W. E. Carey on Saturday dug out a sweet potato, Early Triumph, measuring 3 inches in circumference and was over two feet long.

REPUBLICANS KICK AGAINST ELECTION OFFICERS

Robert W. Cole was in London on Monday and heard Congressman J. M. Robison make one of the most magnificent speeches of his career, when he literally tore the arguments of his opponents to pieces. The house was crowded and the spontaneous and lasting applause of those present proved that Mr. Robison has a multitude of friends in Laurel County. A lot sale and free barbecue with band set for the time of the speech (it is alleged by political opponents) failed to draw the audience from the hall.

Congressman Robison was introduced by ex-Congressman Edwards who spoke highly of his character and qualifications for the high office he fills and the audience, judging by the hearty cheers, was in full sympathy with Mr. Edwards' statements.

The tactics of the democrats in Laurel County came in for a blistering arraignment by our congressman who charged that the sheriff of Laurel County, who is a democrat, and the democratic commission met without giving the republicans notice and appointed all the election officers. Singularly the MANAGER of the Siple Campaign Committee was named as one of the REPUBLICAN ELECTION OFFICERS. On these facts being drawn to their attention by Mr. Robison the audience voted unanimously that suit be instituted to compel them to meet again and name two republicans who are supporting the republican ticket and two democrats who are supporting the democratic ticket for each precinct in the county.

After all wild democratic claims are discounted, it seems certain that Mr. Robison will carry Laurel County by 2,000 majority and if republicans will go to the polls in November, he will carry the whole district by 30,000 majority.

TUESDAY CLUB

The Tuesday Club met in regular session Oct. 17, at the home of Mrs. H. H. Owens.

Mrs. A. W. Hopper had charge of the program and chose as her topic "Home Betterment" as suggested by October being Theodore Roosevelt's anniversary month and he was the great exponent of better homes. Mrs. Hopper presented "Home As An Investment," by Herbert Hoover, together with the topics Betterment of Homes and Better Schools Make Better Homes.

Two great evils that menace the home are contagious disease and the liquor traffic. Mrs. B. C. Herndon presented a very able review of "Map Making Medicine," giving the history and results of scientific efforts to wipe out contagious disease.

Mrs. J. E. Faulkner in her paper showed to what an extent the bootlegging traffic is being carried on.

Mrs. G. M. Richards read most pleasingly Edgar A. Guest's little poem, "It Takes A Heap of Living to Make A House A Home."

KNOX COUNTY CROP REPORT

The report of the United States Department of Agriculture on growing crops for Knox County shows corn 90 per cent, wheat 56, potatoes 93, tobacco 89, pasture 97, sorghum 98, which is a fine average, wheat growing, of course, being negligible in the county.

LOGAN HOSPITAL

Bedded Down Under Own Roof

The new Logan Hospital was ready for business Monday when the Advocate reporter visited the institution. The large and comfortable waiting room was receiving its final touches at the capable hands of Mrs. Ed Faulkner and a colored girl with a mop.

Dr. Ed Faulkner opportunely opened his door as the Advocate man snooped around and sniffed the ether and cordially invited him in to see his movie dental show. This consists of an X-ray machine, fountain and cuspidor all in one unit, a dark room for developing X-ray films, a sterilizer and cabinet and another cabinet for laboratory supplies. The balance of the movie show consists of Dr. Ed Faulkner himself when he takes "them there" instruments of his'n and waves 'em over our teeth, which, after so many years of life together, have gone back on us so that a divorce has become necessary. As the young lady remarked, "dentistry is positively thrilling" and most of us find it so.

Dr. Logan's sanctorum sanctorum is a nice room where one may tell one's inner secrets in comfort. It has those machines which tell you it is time to go to bed and stay there awhile and strolling along the hall, one finds the beds with clean sheets invitingly spread over them. Anyone who needs a rest will find the hospital has lots of it on hand.

Upstairs are other nice beds with nurses to administer good cheer, good food from the up-to-date kitchen downstairs, and other incidentals.

A linen shower in the evening, which almost developed into a down pour, rained pots and pans, drinking glasses, sheets and towels, pillow slips and things to prevent them from slipping, dish towels, flower vases, etc., which brought beaming smiles to the faces of the nurses and Mrs. Logan, while on the face of Dr. Logan lay that look of perplexity which a man wears when confronted by a lot of laundry which he does not know where to place. Fortunately he did not have to decide, which saved him grey hairs.

The shower was a most delightful thought on the part of the women of the city and Dr. Logan is very appreciative of the kindness which led to such a fine mode of expression of public appreciation of the new hospital and we may safely add, of himself, personally.

Dr. Logan's greatest pride is his operating room, which, though seen under electric light, gave proof that even the most delicate surgical operation may be carried on under a fine light and every other favorable circumstance.

Citizens of Barbourville have a right to be proud of the new hospital and the enterprise displayed by Dr. Logan in building it.

METHODIST CHURCH

The pastor, Rev. John Owen Gross will preach at both services Sunday. At 11 o'clock the subject will be "The Credentials for Apostleship." At 7 in the evening subject, "The Man Who Disappoints His Future." Sunday School at 9:30. Epworth League at 6:15. The musical program for the morning consists of special prelude by Prof. E. A. Nunn, anthem by large choir and solo. In the evening two special numbers and an orchestra.

A welcome awaits any who are without a church home.

LYCEUM STARTS UNDER FAVORABLE CIRCUMSTANCES

The Alexander-Dalla Trio opened the Lyceum season at Union College on Monday night and received one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded entertainers in Barbourville. A wide variety of musical instruments and an excellent repertoire of musical numbers together with fine readings, a delightful readiness to respond to the frequent encores, and the pleasing personality of all the performers made a most favorable impression. Should the rest of the numbers measure up to the first we are certain of a lyceum course which will please our people and, as Barbourville is noted for its own good music and recitative work, such appreciation will be doubly a compliment. The opening number of lyceum was a very decided success.

CONFERENCE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

I. L. Shelton is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Geo. A. Joplin, general secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, asking for a conference of Sunday School workers on Tuesday, Oct. 24th. Further announcement will be made from the pulpits on Sunday.

METHODIST LADIES AID

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist Church met Oct. 6th at the home of Mrs. H. H. Owens with 28 members present. Mrs. Larkin Miller, Jr. and Mrs. Jacob Bos gave their names as new members.

After the business session and election of new officers the meeting adjourned to meet Oct. 20th with Mrs. A. M. Decker, Sr.

Mrs. Owens, assisted by Miss Gertrude Black, served delicious refreshments.

The Christmas Bazaar will be on December 14th and 15th.

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION

Parents are earnestly, urgently and cordially requested to meet with the teachers at the city school building on next Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 25th, at 3 o'clock, for the purpose of re-organizing the Parent-Teacher Association.

Improvements within the building and on the premises are needed which this association can greatly assist in securing.

Will you lend us a helping hand in promoting the interests of your most valuable assets—your children
C. P. CAYWOOD, Supt.

INFORMAL BRIDGE

On Saturday night Mrs. Ed Dishman invited in a few of the neighbors to play a round of bridge. The real object of the evening was to wish Mr. Dishman many happy returns of an annual event—a birthday. A jolly evening was spent with good play and good cheer.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Richards carried off high score honors.

SAMPSON-MacDONALD

The wedding of Miss Emelyn Sampson and Mr. Joseph MacDonald which was solemnized in the First Methodist Episcopal Church of this city Tuesday, October 17th, at high noon, was a most beautiful and impressive event. Rev. John Owen Gross officiated using the complete ring service.

The altar decorated in masses of potted ferns, formed a background for the great quantities of gorgeous dahlias in autumn shades from the Mountain Dahlia Gardens where Mrs. T. W. Minton grows her beautiful flowers. The altar rail was daintily entwined with honeysuckle and Lady Helen dahlias.

The ushers were, R. N. Jarvis, T. B. Kauffman, Thomas O'Hara and Robert McDade.

At the appointed hour after an organ prelude by Miss Mae Carter, of Louisville, Mrs. C. F. Rathfon sang charmingly to organ accompaniment three selections: Because, O Promise Me, and At Dawning.

The wedding party entered, the church to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Miss Carter.

The bridesmaids carried arm bouquets of choice dahlias. Mrs. R. E. Gerrish, sister of the bride, wore a blue crepe gown and carried Sweet-Bouquet dahlias, large and pink.

Mrs. R. N. Jarvis wore a black charmeuse gown and carried Billon-aire, Lluvia d'Oro and Geisha Girl, dahlias, brilliant scarlet and gold.

Miss Mary Agnes Heldrick wore a sapphire blue gown carrying Laura Barnes and F. W. Fellows dahlias, beautiful henna shades.

Miss Jewel Tye wore a black crepe gown carrying Millionaire and Princess Pat dahlias making a lavender and pink combination.

The bride wore a national blue brocaded chiffon velvet carrying a bridal bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. She was accompanied by the matron of honor, Mrs. L. D. Sampson, of New York, who wore a gown of black charmeuse and embroidered chenille with corsage of violets. They were met at the altar by the groom who was accompanied by Mr. Steve Watkins, of London, Ky.

Upon leaving the church the bride and groom were showered with rose and dahlia petals.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and relatives were served a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride. The entire house was beautifully decorated with dahlias carrying out the color scheme of pink, white and green.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald left by auto with four other cars filled with friends of the young people acting as escort and met the train at Corbin. They will spend a short time in the north with the groom's people.

The Advocate wishes to join the many friends of one of our home girls in wishing the young people a long life with the best the world has to offer.
